

Templates that keep clients at your fingertips

The solution to your e-mail needs

E-mail Template Tool

With a multitude of professionally written and customizable templates at your disposal, iBoomerang's E-Mail Template Tool is like having your own writing department at the click of a mouse. Whether you're creating your own series of custom templates or firing off an iBoomerang-crafted template, the E-Mail Template Tool will enable you to keep in immediate and constant contact with your clients without the time and hassle of typing long, repetitive e-mails.

Every template, whether an iBoomerang-provided template or a new, personalized template, is completely customizable. From recipient names to specific appointment times, even banners including your corporate logo and image, you'll be able to give each e-mail that personal touch so critical in client retention.

If the E-Mail Template Tool is a business blessing in its own right, when coupled with the efficiency of the iBoomerang Business Responder Tool, it's nothing short of miraculous.

The Business Responder Tool takes one-on-one client interaction to a whole new level. You set the date and time you want your e-mail sent out, anywhere from a day in advance to a year in advance, and the Business Responder Tool will be your own personal pony express. Whether it be an appointment reminder or a more personal message, such as a congratulatory letter for a client's anniversary, the Business Responder Tool guarantees you and your business won't miss a beat with efficiency and effectiveness.
